RISKS

Cryptocurrency, gambling and tokens come with inherent risks including the loss of purchase price, loss of capital and 'winnings', extreme price volatility and unpredictable market and sport behaviour.

1. Blockchain Risk: Blockchain system congestion may cause transactions to be processed late or be invalidated. The Betero team cannot be held accountable for any damage done by bugs, deficiencies or related problems to the underlying blockchain structure.
2. Transaction privacy leakage: Your personal information is required to distribute and control BTE tokens in the purchasers' electronic wallets. BTE tokens stored in the wallets may be changed or lost due to an internal or external factor such as attack from malicious code, software bugs, blockchain networks error, at the request of a regulator (only where required to do so by law will we provide such information and in all cases we will only ever provide the minimum amount of information required by law) and more.
3. Security vulnerabilities: The purchaser is responsible for taking appropriate measures in order to keep their wallet and BTE safe from malicious attacks. The Betero team encourages every purchaser to inform themselves about potential security risks that come with using blockchain products. Betero and the Betero Team will not be responsible for any breaches of security or security vulnerabilities for using, transferring or otherwise in relation to Betero and/or BTE.

4. E-Wallet and Network compatibility risk: Participants must use an electronic wallet that is technically compatible with the BTE token to purchase or store BTE tokens or products. If a participant is using a different wallet, the participant may not be able to access the purchased BTE token and this may be lost. Betero and the Betero Team will not be responsible and will not reimburse for any loss or loss of BTE as a result of such incompatibility or loss derived from such incompatibility. You must ensure that you have the correct network capabilities before transacting, transferring or otherwise dealing with any BTE or other Betero tokens, it is wholly your responsibility and Betero will not be obligated or required in anyway to rectify such issues or losses.

5. Market volatility risk: Participants must be aware that cryptocurrency and tokens are extremely volatile and carry significant risk and financial risk. This can be impacted by events, rhetoric, understanding (or misunderstanding) for any or no reason and participants must ensure they are fully aware, accept and are able to deal with these risks, the volatility and the potential loss that may come as a direct or indirect result.

6. Gambling risks: Gambling is highly addictive, risky and carries potentially significant financial implications and losses. You are not recommended, obliged or induced into gambling and accept that it comes with such inherent risks that users, players and customers both accept and hold Betero and the Betero team harmless for. You should consider all factors and implications, including consulting with a professional before undertaking any form of gambling. By participating in Betero products and services you have accepted the risks and implications and will hold Betero harmless against any and all liability or claim for indemnification.
